Background Information:

.She was raised by her father, and three brothers in a small farming village south of Trilloman. She learned at an early age that she couldn't compete against her brothers with strength, so she learned how to use her speed, and agility to win childhood battles. She mastered the bow at an early age, and became renowned all over the province for her Marksmanship. She struck out from her father's village when he tried to find her a husband. She wanted to find her own husband, and great adventures to tell her children, and Grandchildren. She fears little, but she can't stand rats.
